SPARTANA

THE SENIOR CLASS

THE 1951 EDITION OF THE

SPARTANA

Editors: Delores Large and Veda Fortney

To Friends of Springfield High School:

We welcome you to spend a few minutes visiting us in the following pages. We are proud to introduce to you our new superintendent, Mr. G. S. Hammond, and our new principal, Mr. Robert Brown. You, no doubt, are already acquainted with many members of our faculty, but we want you to know the rest. Maybe you are interested in knowing of our accomplishments and ambitions.

We have had many enjoyable times at pep meetings (thanks to Dramatics class), at athletic contests, class plays, assembly programs, and, yes, even in classes.

We hope you will enjoy this visit. Many loyal supporters have made it possible.

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1951

In the year of our Lord nineteen hundred sixty-one, the S. S. Spartan pulled out of San Francisco Bay to begin its cruise around the world. I was amazed to find that the Captain of this beautiful luxury liner was Winfred Sickle, and serving as members of his crew were Frank Belty, Lowell McDonald, Robert Fleming, and Leo Gilbert.

To my astonishment the steward who showed me to my cabin was Bob Martin. After brushing up a bit I decided to take a leisurely stroll about the decks, and there I spied the distinguished novelist, Kent Maxwell with his private secretary Millie Flannery. I stopped to chat a bit with them and glanced up just in time to see Galen Smith striding by reciting some of his well known poetry. I walked farther down the deck and in a secluded corner I saw the famous Hollywood dramatic instructor, Marian Schott, coaching her two favorite pupils, Barbara Pettit and Barry Thomas.

I climbed the steps to the top deck and walked over to the swimming pool. There perched upon the diving board I saw the former Joyce Messick, the current "Mrs. America." Looking around I saw Barbara Phipps and Faye Pouncey sunbathing. About this time my stomach told me it was time to eat so I went down to my cabin to dress for dinner.

I went into the dining room on the arm of Earl Smithern who, incidentally, is on his eighth trip around the world with the "Globetrotters." Seated at a little table in the center of the dining room was John Fresh who is now a jeweler and with him was none other than Betty Anderson. I understand she models his jewelry in a shop in London.

As the orchestra began to play several couples left their tables to dance. Among them I recognized the former Carol Douglas, Delores Bee, Lenora Cieutat, and Betty Griffin with their husbands, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davisson. I then noticed the featured trumpet player was an old classmate, George Kungle. My attention having been attracted to the bandstand I saw that the maestro was our own Jeanne Donovan. I see by the program that Carolyn Maloney is the featured dancer.

After having such a wonderful dinner I was dying to know who the chefs were. I wandered about until I found the kitchen and there lo and behold were "Buster" Pounders and Dick Abbot all decked out in chef hats and aprons. I went right away to get some bicarbonate of soda.

I saw by the schedule that we were due to dock at Honolulu the next day so I thought it best to turn in for the night. After a good night's sleep I was the first one ashore when the boat docked at 8:00 A.M. I registered and had breakfast in a beautiful hotel owned and operated by Mary Lou Dilworth. Then I started on a tour of the city. My guide, who I thought was a native, turned out to be Arland Peck. Seated under a palm tree strumming a ukelele was Don Clayton. To his plunking of "Hawaian Sunset" six pretty Hula Hula girls Ellen Walker, Gay Cottle, Charlene Sanders, Mary Knotts, Marian Fluharty and Ruth Dudugjian were "Hula Hula-ing."

I went next on an inspection tour of the high school where I met two of my former classmates, Mary Ann Barta and Shirley Knotts, physical education teachers. The principal of the school, Nella Schmidt, escorted me to the door and directed me back to the ship which was sailing shortly.

As I gathered with the other passengers at the rail to wave farewell to my friends Mary Jane Cunningham, Carol Keith and Geneva Holland, who plan to work in the Navy Ship's Store until they got homesick, I saw a group of familiar looking people. What were they doing? You'd never guess. They were Jim Clay, Jim Boone, Ronnie Crew, and Bob Boyles diving for coins thrown overboard by the wealthier passengers. Needless to say I hurried to the dining room to spend my coins.

My tea was served by a charming young lady, Donna Smith, who was working her way around the world.

When my ship docked in Shanghai, I went ashore seeking some real chop suey. On a little back street there was "Chop Chop's Chop House." Of course, you know who the proprietor was, our old stand-by Charles Browder. Among his daily customers were John Ayers, JoAnn Malenack, and Joe Noffsinger.

A few hours out of Shanghai there was great excitement aboard ship. One of our stewards, Steve Park, examining the life boats had discovered a stowaway hidden under a life preserver. Who else could it have been but "Chic" Crosier.

Captain Sickle being an old friend of "Chic's" told him that he could remain aboard until the ship docked at Calcutta.

Unfortunately the ship developed engine trouble and we were forced to anchor off the coast of Borneo. The wild-looking tribe which greeted us almost frightened us to death until we realized that they were all red heads led by "Pinky" Morgan. They, Pat Burley, Gordon Miller, Robert Wood, and Angie Copley, were rehearsing for a Broadway show entitled "Pinky's Pagans" and had had to go there to find peace and quiet.

They gladly took time to take us into the interior where we watched two of our famous game hunters, Bob Jacobs and Bill Apitz, still trying to shoot something.

Since we had lost several days in Borneo, the captain decided to omit our stop at Calcutta where we had hoped to attend a Soap Box Derby sponsored by Fred Derks.

As our ship entered the Suez Canal, the customs inspectors, Jim Leiser and Jacob Schmidt, stopped us for a few hours because repairs were being made on the lock. Among the many workmen leaning on shovels were Warren Davidson and Bob Davis. After many delays we were finally on our way to Cairo. We tried, but unsucessfully, to visit a harem. We did hear it rumored that Jeannie Bohrer was employed there as a hair stylist. We were allowed to visit Ralph Mendenhall excavating a tomb. Two of his helpers were Kathryn Bond and Jean Miller.

It was only a short hop from Egypt to Italy. Many of my former classmates have settled there. Connie Mondello spends her days eating spaghetti with Ruth Kovacs. Running a reducing salon for spaghetti eaters, are Dolores Lollar, Doris Weimer, and Judy Scott.

Tired of traveling by ship I went to the Rome airport to charter a plane for a trip to Paris and Hamburg. The only pilot available was Herb Steet. I decided to take a chance since his hostesses were Veda Fortney and Barbara Stamey.

To pick up the latest fashions I stopped in several shops in Paris. Clothes for a cruise were modeled by Betty Lipscomb and JoAnn Waldrop. When I sought evening clothes, I found Nona Livingston and Roberta Ray. Through a record shop window I spied Marion Meredith, Ellen Theodore, and Janet Price. Papers on the corner newstand proclaimed that Helen Ruffener had swum the English Channel after eighteen attemps, and Kenny Colling had finally succeeded in perfecting wireless television. Singing in a Paris Cafe where I stopped for refreshments after my shopping spree were our favorite singers, Mary Jane Mihaly, Dorothy Weiss, and Donna Ott. The next evening at a concert I heard JoAnn Slevin accompanied by Nancy Webb. They were received well by the audience which included Betty Spidle, Cathleen Robinson, and Virginia Putnam. I never did find out what they were doing in Paris, but I found that Pat Parsons was the editor of the Paris Gazette.

We stopped on our round about way to London to visit our friend Hans who has a model farm near Hamburg, Germany. His children's governess was Dolores Large.

In London we were shown around by Sir Walter Fricke. By this time I was so homesick for my old home town that I hurried back to the ship which was headed for New York. At Grand Central as I boarded the train I met Nadine Austin, Loudine Clark, and Joyce Mathis returning for a visit to their Alma Mater.

Arriving back at good old S.H.S. I saw attending a football game June Higginbotham and Carolyn Manhart. Perhaps they'll help me plan a reunion for the class of '51 in the near future.

Spirit of '51

The annual staff expresses appreciation to Tomei Studio for its representative who so graciously attended many social events of the year and made numerous visits to the school in order that we might have this pictorial record of our school year.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is an honorary organization which is comprised of not more than fifteen per cent of the senior class and not more than five per cent of the junior class.

Each year a list of all those who have attained the necessary scholastic average of eighty-eight is prepared and presented to the faculty for consideration. The students are also judged on the basis of their character, leadership and service during their years of high school.

The "tap service" which is the method by which new members are informed of their admission to the group is conducted by those seniors who are accepted the preceding year.

At the time of their induction this year, all of the old and new members were presented with a yellow rose. This is the national flower of the society.

As this year's project, National Honor Society is taking over the drive for magazine subscriptions. The revenue raised from these sales is to go towards the purchase of a new scoreboard for the football field.

To become a member of this organization should be the aim of every high school student.

Seated: Jimmy Reed, Joe Reed, Charles Crosier, Winfred Sickle, Bob Jacobs, Miss Van Hyning, Mary Knotts, Thelma Johnson, Nancy Kelly, Carole Dayton.

Standing: Herb Ewing, Mary Ann Barta, Janice Jackson, Norma Newbauer, Clyde Weidaw.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, which is the legislative body of the high school, has been in existence here since 1943. It is comprised of five seniors, four juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen making a total of fourteen members.

Each member must fulfill three basic requirements. These are: reliability, a scholastic average of at least seventy-five, and a very sincere interest in the council. The purposes of this organization are to promote democracy within the school and to improve relationships between the students and the teachers.

The Student Council sponsors many activities throughout the school year and is responsible for the character of all assembly programs. This year they decided to raise money to buy pictures for our classrooms. The various clubs of the high school were asked to take turns selling concessions at the basketball games. The proceeds from these sales were turned over to the Student Council and were put into the picture fund.

All members are elected by popular vote from their various classes. All officers are seniors who are voted upon by members of the council.

Have you enjoyed your visit? If you feel like thanking someone, patronize the advertisers who have contributed so much to the cost of publishing this book.

You might personally thank Mr. K. O. Myers and the members of his Co-op class who spent much of their time selling advertising space. Although their course requires that they hold regular jobs, they found time to perform a really important service to their school.

We of the annual staff wish to express our thanks to both the advertisers and the students who contacted them.
